

MCR Trinity Term General Meeting
28 April 1991

The meeting was opened by our illustrious president, Mark Morgan. Although we were few in numbers, we were mighty in intellect and character. (i.e. we didn't have quorum, so this was an 'advisory gathering')

It was reported that the JCR is happy to have us dis-associate from the NUS and join them on their membership, paying a proportion of the fees in relation to our membership.

It was suggested that the termly general meetings should be held early, especially in Michaelmas term when students have just arrived.

Paul Craig, the dean of graduates, joined us and spoke on behalf of the College. He said the College is willing to be supportive of the graduate students and wants good relations with the MCR. He pointed out that the college is conscious that graduates are an important part of the college. Mr. Craig reminded us that he is the one to see first if we have any problems. New single graduate housing is planned, and the College is looking at the possibility of a new MCR facility.

The rest of the discussion focused on suggestions for the improvement of the MCR -- both the facilities and the organization. The suggestions were as follows:

- i. Improve paper/magazine storage in the MCR
- ii. Have lockers available in College for graduates who live out
- iii. Place picnic tables in the garden behind the graduate building
- iv. Try to target some fund-raising to graduate students

The committee is receiving more ideas and will submit a complete list to Paul Craig.

Respectfully submitted,

Janelle Larson, 1991 MCR Secretary
